

WELDCO-BEALES MANUFACTURING Employment Opportunity

January 07, 2011

General Manager

Weldco Companies, comprised of Weldco-Beales Manufacturing alongside Weldco Hydra-Lift and Weldco Heavy Industries are active participants in the heavy steel industry. Weldco-Beales Manufacturing (WBM) manufactures heavy equipment attachments while Weldco Hydra-Lift manufactures truck mounted cranes for the construction, forestry, mining and resource industries throughout Canada, U.S.A. and internationally. Weldco Heavy Industries is a steel repair and fabrication facility located in the heart of Alberta's oilsands.

A unique and challenging opportunity exists in our manufacturing facility located in Edmonton, Alberta for a General Manager. Providing leadership and direction for two divisions including Weldco-Beales (Alberta) heavy equipment attachment manufacturing and Weldco Hydra-Lift crane manufacturing the General Manager will be entrepreneurial, an excellent communicator and a leader by word and example. Ensuring safe, efficient and profitable operations while achieving business plan goals and objectives the General Manager also demonstrates commitment to superior customer service through on time delivery and quality products.

Guided by strong ethics, sound business judgment and business instincts the successful candidate will be competent in the following:

- Manufacturing operations, systems, processes and technology
- Human resource management along with coaching, delegating and developing people
- Sales strategies including customer service, customer relationships and identification of market growth opportunities
- Expenditure and cost management; ability to interpret and actively respond to various financial reports
- Safety Program participation

This is a fantastic opportunity for a professional with positive exposure to all aspects of business including corporate business and strategic planning processes. While a strong knowledge of the mobile heavy equipment industry and an appropriate post-secondary education are assets, successful experience in a senior management role is requisite.
